

8th April 2025

Dear Hiring Manager,

I have just seen the role of Product Engineer (AI) / Full Stack Engineer advertised on Ask HN: Who is Hiring? (April 2025).

Currently, I am employed as a Principal Engineer at a leading EdTech company. I am now looking for a new and ambitious career challenge - ideally at an AI-focused company - and the role advertised sounds like a wonderful opportunity.

As my CV demonstrates, I have many years experience in designing and developing software and systems. I have built a diverse range of full-stack solutions for Cloud (AWS), Desktop (Windows, Linux), Mobile (Android, iOS, iPadOS), Wearable (Android Wear, watchOS) and IoT, using a wide variety of runtimes, languages (JavaScript, Python), frameworks (React, React Native), databases and tools.

Aside from having extensive full-stack experience, I also have solid experience with a range of open-source AI models (language, image, video, segmentation, speech).

Thank you for your time and I really hope to hear from you soon.

Yours faithfully,
